POLICEMAN SHOOTS A TOUGH.

FIRES AT MEMBER OF A GANG-IN SELF-DEFENCE.

Says That Four Set Upon Him When He Interfered With Man Who Was Striking a Woman in 3d Avenue Theory That Roughs Lay in Wait for Him.

While defending himself, early yesterday morning, against four members of a notorious East Side gang, known as the Sam Paul Association, Policeman Richard Ahearn of the East Twenty-second street station shot and seriously wounded one of them, Julian Morrell of 416 East Seventeenth street. The shooting occurred in Third avenue, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets. Morrell was arrested and taken to Bellevue Hospital, a pris-oner. The bullet entered his left breast and passed across the chest, ledging in the right arm. He is expected to be out in three or four days. His companions escaped.

Ahearn was recently transferred from the West 125th street station to Capt. Gallagher's precinct to keep East Fourteenth street clear of disorderly women. He is young and new on the force. About 8 o'clock yesterday morning he was in Third avenue near Fourteenth street in plain clothes, when, he says, he heard a woman crying for help near Thirteenth

Running up, he saw a man beating a woman, and three other men standing around. When he interfered all the men went for him. He was knocked down and beaten, and then the men grabbed him and began to carry him toward a trench that is being dug at Third avenue and Fourteenth percet. After a struggle he got an arm loose and succeeded in drawing his re-

His assailants dropped him and started on the run down the avenue. Ahearn scrambled to his feet and started in pursuit pocketing the weapon as he ran, according to his story. At Thirteenth street the men suddenly turned around and fell upon him again, beating and kicking him. Ahearn pulled his revolver just as he was knocked down the second time and fired a shot, which hit Morrell fell to the ground groaning.

which hit Morrell.

Morrell fell to the ground groaning, and the other three fled. The policemen from the posts just above and below Four-teenth street heard the shot, came up on the run and found only Ahearn and Morrell on the scene.

Capt. Gallagher of the East Twentysecond street station said yesterday that he wouldn't be surprised at all if the attack on Ahearn was planned and the attack on Ahearn was planned and the beating of the woman only a pretence to decoy the intended victim. The members of the Sam Paul Association, according to him, are a gang of sluggers of the same kind as those who follow the leadership of Monk Eastman.

One of their specialties, he said, has been to held up and rob the women that loiter in the neighborhood where Ahearn was attacked. The captain also intimated that he would be able to produce the woman who figured in the case when she was wanted in court, but he would not give her

FIRE SCARES SCHOOL CHILDREN. Cool Teachers Avert Panie in Bronx Schoolhouse-Little Damage Done.

A small fire on the top floor of the public school at Fagle avenue and 163d street started a panic among the 1,500 half-day pupils who remained in the building after the 3 o'clock session had been dismissed yesterday afternoon.

The pupils have not had any fire drill since the fall term began, and when the electric alarms sounded and cries of fire were heard in the street some of the children rushed for the fire escapes and the stairs.
Principal William Childs and Miss Sara M.
Reins got the children in hand before the panic became general, and no one was hurt.

STRIKE BREAKERS WON AWAY. Carload of Pennsylvania Miners Get to Thurber and Won't Work.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 18 .- All efforts of the mine operators of the Texas and Pacific Coal Company at Thuber to start up the mines have failed. A carload of miners reached Thurber from Pottsville, Pa., and, although a squad of Texas Rangers were at the railroad station at Thurber Junetion at the request of the coal company, the representatives of the strikers were able to get an interview with the Pennsylvanians. At its conclusion the new-comers entered backs bired by the strikors and were driven five miles away to nion camp, where they joined the strike forces.

President Edgar L. Marston of the coal company reached Dallas this morning direct from New York. He remained only a short time. During the afternoon he held pleasant conferences with a number of labor leaders, who have helped to manage the strike against his company. manage the strike against his company. He shows a much more tolerant spirit than his manager, Gordon. President Marston intends going to Thurber to-morrow. There is a possibility that ! e may promote a compromise with the union.

HELP FOR THE GOWANS.

Family of the Striking Teamster Had Lived for Nearly a Month on $4.12.

Help came yesterday to the family of Thomas Gowan, one of the Curtis & Blaisdell strikers, who was arrested on Thurswhile trying to steal a doorknob to buy food for his starving wife and children. The family has lived for nearly a month on $4.12. Out of this sum Gowan had to spend $2.90 to buy parade regalia for Labor Day, and most of the remainder went for carfare to and from the Teamsters' Union headquarters, where he was ordered to report every morning.

Relief came when a woman and her daughter called at their home at 540 East 117th street and gave them $5. The Gowans had not had anything to eat since last Saturday, except what little the neighbors saturday, except what however sent them gave them, Later a broker sent them $10 through the SUN. TO JOIN EMPLOYERS' UNIONS. Plan to Consolidate the Building Trades Throughout the City.

The building contractors are endeavoring to consolidate in one body all the employers' associations in the city. With this end in view a conference was held on Friday night between a committee of twenty-five of the Building Trades League of Brooklyn and a committee of the Building Trades Employers' Association.

The Building Trades League of Brooklyn is composed principally of independent contractors in all branches of the build-ing trades and has a membership of about

At the conference resolutions were passed recommending that the members of the league join the employers' associations of their respective trades and favoring amal gamation of the Brooklyn body with the Building Trades Employers' Association, which has some large contractors in The Bronx among its members.

Both resolutions will be submitted first to the Brooklyn organization and if ratified by that body will be submitted to the Building Trades Employers' Association. Some of the Brooklyn sub-contractors are not in favor of amalgamation. An employer who spoke against the plan said yesterday:

"If the full scheme is carried out it will mean the creation of a body of employers similar to the Board of Building Trades, which the Manhattan employers are fighting. With the exception of some of the large general contractors the Brooklyn men, I believe, will not favor the idea.

It would put the sub-contractors in the power of the general contractors.

"The league is organized for protective, not for aggressive, purposes, and the small contractors in Brooklyn are not looking for trouble just now."

so the Policeman's Trial Is Unexpectedly Reopened-Commissioner Thinks It May Affect Credibility of Cop's Testimony—He's Going to Quit.

Policeman Robert E. Ullner failed to appear at Police Headquarters yesterday or trial before Deputy Commissioner Ebstein. Ullner, who is a plain clothes man in the Old Slip station, was tried last week on charges of neglect of duty in not obtaining sufficient evidence to back up arrests. The charges grew out of Magistrate Hogan's allegations, and on Thursday evening his case was reopened unexpectedly. When called on Thursday Ullner threw his shield in front of Commissioner Ebstein and announced that he would resign right there and then. Major Ebstein said that he couldn't resign, and at Ullner's request the hearing was set for vesterday afternoon.

Why Ullner had been recalled when his case was already closed could not be learned on Thursday. It became known yesterday that Assistant District Attorney Lord wished to question Ullner about his wedding, which took place six months ago.

Uliner, Gen. Greene learned, had married Ullner, Gen. Greene learned, had married Mrs. Annie Gray, who has a large brownstone front house in Forty-sixth street. Mrs. Gray has entertained extensively, and the West Forty-seventh street police have seen fit to detail two policemen to duty on her front stoop. She has also a country residence at Sheepshead Bay. She is said to be wealthy.

When Gen. Greene learned of Ullner's wedding he told Capt. Farrell of the Old Slip station to question the policeman about it. Ullner admitted that he and Mrs. Gray had been married. Gen. Greene then ordered Ullner's case reopened, as he considered the fact of the marriage would attack the credibility of any testimony given by the policeman.

When the case was called yesterday Uliner failed to appear. Lawyer Greenberg, who answered for him, said that he was uptown and would not be down. The case was postponed until next Thursday afternon, when Commissioner Ebstein case was postponed until next Thursday afternoon, when Commissioner Ebstein directed Greenberg to produce the policeman. Capt. Farrell of the Old Slip station was in the court room, and Major Ebstein directed him to find Ullner and bring him to Police Headquarters to explain his absence. Capt. Farrell said he didn't think he would be able to lay hands on him. Commissioner Greene received yesterday morning Ullner's shield, fire box key and manual, which had been sent in a big envelope. Gen. Greene said that Ullner would not be allowed to resign, but would have to answer other charges. MAGISTRATE HITS AT POLICE. Cornell Says They Don't Get Evidence

Enough to Hold Habitual Criminals. Magistrate Cornell, in the Yorkville court, hit back vesterday at Inspectors McClusky and Schmittberger, who, when asked on Wednesday why the Monk Eastman and other bands of East Side thurs were not broken up by the police, declared their hands were practically tied because the Magistrates invariably discharge prisoners arrested as habitual criminals.

Detective Sergeants McDonald, Connelly and Benoil brought to court five men whom they said they had arrested while trying to pick pockets in the crowd around the collapsed tenement at Rutgers and Madison streets. Before arraigning the prisoners, the detectives stepped to the bridge and confidentially asked the Magistrate if he would punish the men. "Most certainly, I will," declared Magis-

BRAVE POLICEMAN INSANE?

Roundsman Schuesster, Who Has Been Commended Many Times, Is in Bellevue.

Bicycle Roundsman John Schuessler of the Bronx Park police station, who has been commended many times for bravery since he was appointed ten years ago. was taken to Bellevue Hospital vesterday for inquiry into his sanity. For two months Schuessler has been on the sick list because he has had mild delusions, but lately he has insisted so strongly on going back to work that Police Surgeon Brown decided to have the Bellevue insanity experts look him over first.

Dr. Brown attempted to have the police man examined secretly, because neither Schuessler nor his brother cops thought there was anything the matter but stomach trouble. He was taken to Bellevue last Wednesday night, but, as Dr. Brown wouldn't allow him to be sent to the insane ward, the alienists refused to express an opinion as to his sanity.

Schuessler got impatient, yesterday, and said he would kill himself if he wasn't Then Dr. Brown suggested going to Bellevue again, and when Schuessler refused, he summoned the reserves of the West Chester police station, fearing the roundsman might injure himself.

Schnessler was finally persuaded to go quietly. Dr. Brown believes Schnessler's condition is due to a fall from his bicycle sapping her strength.

while chasing an automobilist two years ago, when he struck on his head.

Schuessler was appointed a policeman on June 15, 1893, and was made a roundsman on Aug. 8, 1897. According to his official record, he was commended for excellent duties three times in 1897, and received a medal for stopping a runnway. In April medal for stopping a runaway. In April, 1899 he was again commended, for rescuing a woman from a burning building, and in 1901, he got honorable mention and a medal for stopping another runaway horse.

HOGAN TALKS GRAFT AGAIN. Tells of Queer Proceedings by the Police in West Thirty-seventh Street. Magistrate Hogan had more to say yes erday about police graft, in discussing the Grace Sallish case, in which he had been a witness on Thursday at Police Headquarters, and pointed out a violation of the law in the issuance of bail bonds in the same case of which he said Capt. ATTACKED BY HER GARDENER

HEALY TRIED TO SHOOT MRS. VON EIF AFTER A QUARREL.

Pistol Was Empty. So He Struck Her With It and Then Punched Her Face-They Differed Over Wages Due-Gave Himself Up to Police-Carried a Pistol.

Mrs. Anna von Eif, the wife of Charles ron Eif of 227 Lenox road, Flatbush, was attacked by her gardener, William Healy, 23 years old, after an argument yesterday afternoon, which resulted in Mrs. von Eif discharging him. The Von Eifs live in a handsome detached house near the Kings county building in Flatbush. Mr. von Fif is the manager for a wholesale importing drug house in Manhattan.

Healy had been in the employ of the Von Eifs for nearly a year and was at times very morose and despondent. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. von Eif paid him his wages and he objected, saying that more was due to him. Mrs. von Eif said she had paid him all he was entitled to and threatened to discharge him for his insolence. Subsequently she asked him to do an odd job around the house and he again became sullen and then Mrs. von Eif told him to leave. This took place in the yard in the rear of the house.

When Healy learned that he had been discharged he became angry, and, after mutering something that Mrs. von Eif was unable to understand, drew a revolver and, aiming it at Mrs. von Eif, pulled the trigger. Fortunately the revolver was not loaded Then Healy struck Mrs. von Eif on the head twice with the weapon, causing scalp wounds. He ended the assault by striking her in the mouth with his clenched fist. cutting her lip

Mrs. von Eif's screams attracted some of the servants in the house, and she was cared Broadway Theatre on Oct. 3 and will be for until Dr. Burt D. Harrington of 24 Lenox road dressed her wounds. One of the amily said that there was no cause for Healy to act as he did, and the general impression is that he had been drinking. Late in the afternoon, while Capt. Formosa, of the Brooklyn Detective Bureau, was in the Adams street station, he was susprised to see Healy walk in. He immediately recognized him as a man who worked for one of his neighbors. "I want to give myself up," said Healy to the sergeant at the desk. "What for?" asked the sergeant.

MURDER BY YAQUI INDIANS. Bands Again Committing Depredations on Mexican Settlers.

CITY OF MEXICO, Mexico, Sept. 18 .- Th War Department is advised that the Yaqui Indians are again becoming very trouble-some to the Mexican settlers of the State of Sonora. Bands of the Indians rove over the country, evading the Government troops, and commit all kinds of depredations. Murder of travellers and carriers is of almost daily occurrence.
